PRESIDENTS MESSAGE—Janet Mitchell

Fall is here! Time for hot apple cider, warm soups simmering on the stove, anything pumpkin spice, rich fall colors, and warm fuzzy sweaters and long pants ( baggy enough to cover up the extra 'fluff' I've gained eating anything pumpkin)- it's my favorite time of year. the only thing that would improve Fall is if we had the changing of the leaves like the Midwest and east coast. Fall also is the start of the end of the year and what a busy time of year it is for Desert Quail Tolerers. October is our Annual Holiday Boutique and I encourage all of you to help out by baking something for Granny's Pantry , Demoing your painting skills at the boutique, cashiering, wrapping or a floor walker –call Becky or Rosanne and they can put you to work. Also don't forget to sell those raffle tickets, this is our big fund raiser of the year. In November we have our election of officers and then Thanksgiving. And then December and our Annual Christmas party, The Christmas Party Committee will be selling tickets at the October meeting so be sure and buy yours.

Thank you Beth for the adorable project at the September meeting, everyone's looked great. Maggie Miller will be teaching an adorable project at the October meeting so be sure to sign up to reserve your project. The Program VPs lowered the prices of the projects to $10 for this year and was able to do this because of your support to the chapter by purchasing monthly raffle tickets and through the sale of the early raffle. Please keep up your support so we can continue to offer our monthly meeting projects at this incredibly low low price.

Don't forget to bring a bag of wrapped candy for the Church's annual Trunk or Treat. This is a big event for them and we like to help them out. Bring your kids/grandkids too to participate.

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month so be good to yourself and get a Mammogram!

Holiday Raffle

Don't forget that those of you who have not yet turned in your raffle tickets and money must do so by October 22, before 2 pm, at the Boutique. We have no more regular meetings before then, so mail them to me or bring them to the Boutique. And if you need more tickets, give me a call and we will make some arrangements to get them to you.

The member who sells the most raffle tickets will be awarded a $25 gift certificate from Kreative Klutter. So far, many of you have turned in your tickets, some have picked up additional ones and others have not indicated their intentions, so let's keep in contact so we have an accounting of all available tickets.

Get your tickets in so you have a chance to win one of these lovely prizes. Thanks for your participation.

Ways & Means

Maggie Miller

I'm so excited about the raffle items/baskets each meeting. A big Thank You to all you generous ladies who are supplying us with these wonderful Ways & Means items. You are so Awesome.

2016 DQT Christmas Party

The 2016 DQT Christmas Party will be held on December 6, 2016, 6:00 - 9:00 pm. Our theme will, once again, be "Turn on the Twinkle!" We will also be highlighting DQT's 25th anniversary during the evening. Tickets this year will be $15 a person.

Looking ahead,.. the Christmas Party Committee plans to have a spectacular DQT raffle this year. If you have a painted item at home that you would be willing to donate, you may bring it to any DQT meeting and give it to Carol Whitton or Jo Anne Goodsell through November 2016. Raffle items that need to be painted or require some TLC will also be available at the meetings for members to take home and finish. Do you already have a hand painted ornament for the Ornament Exchange? This has always been a fun activity during our Christmas Party. Don't miss out and get to painting if you still need one!

A big THANK YOU goes out to all the members who have graciously volunteered to be table hostesses. They are working hard to create beautiful tables for all to enjoy during the evening.

THE HEALING POWER OF ART

By: Gisele Pope, Advocate

There is evidence that engagement with artistic activities, either as an observer of the creative efforts of others or as an initiator of one's own creative efforts, can enhance one's moods, emotions, and other psychological states as well as have a salient impact on important psychological parameters." (Stuckey & Nobel, 2010, p. 254)

As artists, we have the unique ability to touch people through music, mixed media, performance arts and other mediums.

Every year, at the end of September, our town has a fitness run to raise money for Breast Cancer. My husband and I are long time participants of "Relay for Life" and have seen first hand the way cancer affects the patient and the ripple effect it causes.

I was recently speaking with a friend who was waging her own battle, and one of the things she mentioned was how her Art helped her and her family through the process. Art has always been my "go to" to help me through any emotional stage in my life and I was happy to see that research backs the healing power of art.

"Art therapy, commonly defined as expressive therapy that utilizes paints, markers, clay, etc., is generally divided into two general types: one is the creative process of art making causes inherent healing; and the other is the finished product provides symbolic communication." (Makin, 1994)

When faced with a major illness, sleeplessness, restlessness and depression can occur.

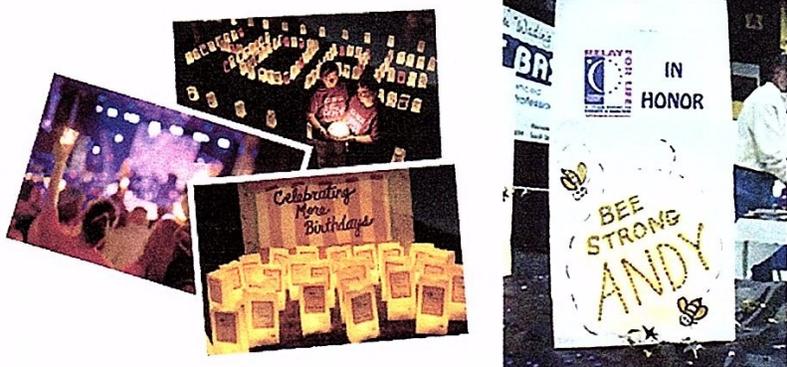

Many times, depression is the culprit that begins our undoing and investigations show that positive activities not only stop the cycle of continued depression, they help build self esteem, and, with the addition of a social aspect, they help make a connection with others.

Art is also mood elevating. Participants report a feeling of calmness, energy, optimism, a sort of looking-forward-to-see where the project goes, and creativity. By engaging in Art, we can escape for a bit but also take away a feeling of satisfaction and create some long range goals.

One of the activities we do for Relay is to create some artful bags called luminarios that are placed on the field and dedicated to individuals in our lives that have encountered cancer. When we set up tables and engaged caregivers and family members in the art of making the bags, they shared stories, compared treatments, remembered highs and lows and talked about how much they enjoyed making this small token of affection for them.

Using color to heal.

Colors used in art can be extremely expressive and you may find yourself attached to particular colors at different stages in your healing or treatment. By embracing the colors that attract you and using them to express yourself with your art, you can be expressing inner turmoil and releasing some of the anger or helplessness that disease brings. I know that my friend said originally she painted in red, feeling agitated and angry and as her anger lessened, she turned to orange and yellow. She gravitated toward grey and blue when her depression was at its height and then found herself using other hues of these colors when she began to feel more in control and calm. The transition from dark blue, more relaxing, to more of the turquoise blues created a more soothing feeling. Blue is known for lowering blood pressure, fevers and calming tempers.

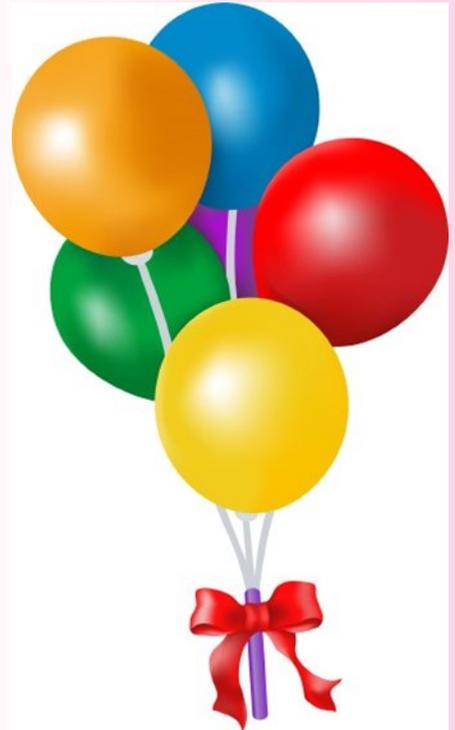

Traditionally the color associated with Breast Cancer fundraisers, Pink is known for joy and youth. The color invigorates and is the best color for healing from grief. It is no wonder there are so many campaigns that use this color.

As an artist and teacher, it makes me happy that I can touch so many people through my art and create healing, but you can also make a difference with your own art. If you are unsure how to help in your own community, you might offer one of your own art pieces in an online or silent auction, sponsor an art event, hold an art "camp", or offer to take care of someone's children during treatment (of course, have a few little art projects handy!)

Because engagement with creative activities can contribute toward reducing stress and depression these activities also serve as a vehicle for alleviating the burden of chronic disease. As psychologists examine how the arts can be used to heal emotional injuries and alter behavior and thinking patterns the extent to which art therapy is sustainably health enhancing is an important area for public health investigation. With the relative ease of engagement and the limitlessness of creative expression, art therapy can be used to increase understanding of oneself, development of self-reflection, and capacity to reduce symptoms. (Stuckey & Nobel, 2010, p. 254)

Desert Quail Tolers

Meeting October 4, 2016 Beth Murena's Home

The meeting was called to order by President, Janet Mitchell, at 6:42 p.m

Present at the meeting were: Janet Mitchell, Beth Murena, Paula Maldonado, Jeanetta Cimo, Cathy Immel, Becky Bolding, Sue Clark, Marilyn Hinman, Carol Whitton, Jane Haggard, Deb Ramo, Diana VanRiel, Judy Mountjoy, Rosanne Scholey

Programs: Sue Clark and Diana VanRiel - Maggie Miller will be teaching in October. With teachers trying to take advantage of sales, by purchasing surfaces prior to getting the last count of those attending, it was decided that a review of how to pay for surfaces will be done for 2017. This procedure will be made known to all the 2017 teachers. Maggie will be paid for 25 projects.

January 2017 will be a mystery project. This will be free for those who have paid their dues by the November Meeting.

2017 Programs still has 4 openings for teachers.

Membership: Deb Ramo – Double gift certificates were purchased from Kreative Klutter. Rather than return them it was decided that the certificates would be distributed $25 to the high seller of the Raffle

$15 to the Christmas Party

$10 to Ways and Means

17 members renewed in the months of August and September.

If not paid by the Christmas Party they will not be included in the 2017 membership book.

Secretary: Rosanne Scholey – Nothing to report. September minutes were presented. Maggie Miller moved that the minutes be approved as presented, second by Sue Clark. Motion passed. Treasurer: Cathy Duke-Immel. Financial statements for August and September was distributed, as well as a report on the current vs. estimated expenses and income. Breakdown of Summer Seminar income and expenses was distributed. Balance at the end of September 2016 was $11,766.07. Cathy Immel indicate that the August budget information in the last newsletter was incorrect. The distributed financial statement is correct.

Beth Murena moved that the reports be accepted as presented, seconded by Maggie Miller. Motion was approved.

Newsletter: Beth Murena – articles were due last Friday

Ways and Means: Maggie Miller – Sign up for the first couple of months for 2017 will be done before there is an election. Marilyn Hinman, Rosanne Scholey will take the January Ways and Means, Sue Clark will be the featured artist.

A motion was made by Rosanne Scholey that the 2nd Chance Raffle be given $300 from the unused Ways and Means budget for things that are needed for the raffle. Motion 2nd by Beth Murena. Motion approved.

Sunshine: Sarah Vogel - absent

Welcome: Dorothy Patton - absent

Hospitality: Jane Haggard and Carol Whitton – October meeting will be your favorite fall food.

November will be a Thanksgiving dinner. Will ask the members to sign up at the October meeting. The board will fill in any food holes. It was decided that the turkey should be paid for from the Hospitality budget. A copy of the sign up sheet will appear in the November newsletter as a reminder.

Fair: Jane Haggard – DQT will again commit a cash donation for 2017.

Education: Diane VanRiel – nothing to report

Quail Eggs: Rose Gardner - absent.

Charities: Sue Clark – Invitation to attend a Rescue Mission Recognition dinner was sent to Sue Clark. Sue Clark, Carol Whitton and Rosanne Scholey attended the dinner. It was suggested that we support the Rescue Mission Easter event. More information will be presented at a future meeting.

Website: Carol Whitton – Nothing to report

Summer Seminar: Beth Murena and Janet Mitchell – 2017 Seminar will be with Laurie Speltz. June 2 and 3, 2017 have been selected as the seminar dates.

Holiday Raffle: Judy Mountjoy, Paula Maldonado, Marilyn Hinman – Over $700 has already been collected from ticket sales. Ornaments are still needed to fill the suitcase. These must be turned in at the boutique, as the October meeting is held after the raffle.

Holiday Boutique: Becky Bolding – 60 tables have been sold. To put this in perspective 46 were sold last year. Citizens on Patrol will have a small table, distributing information. If you are able to help at the Boutique please contact Becky Bolding or Rosanne Scholey.

October Paint Month: Pat De La Pena – Absent. Completed for 2016

Christmas Party: Carol Whitton and Joanne Goodsell –Half of the tickets have already been sold. Tickets will be sold until the November meeting, any remaining tickets will be open to guests at a cost of $27 per ticket.

Awards: Becky Bolding – After a discussion of awards, a motion was made by Beth Murena that we discontinue award for 2017 and the Award Budget be added to the Quail Egg budget. Maggie Miller 2nd the motion. Motion approved.

Egg Exchange: Debbie Ragains – nothing to report

Nominating Committee: - Sue Clark, Marilyn Hinman and Heidi Allison. The proposed 2017 Board will be presented at the October meeting.

New Business: Nothing

Old Business: Nothing

Old Business – the proposal to have a wood sale, using Quail Eggs, was put on hold.

Next Board Meeting at the home of Sarah Vogel on. November Please RSVP

8:06 Beth Murena moved to adjourn the meeting, second by Maggie Miller. Motion passed

The 2nd Chance Committee would like to invite you to donate a theme basket for our raffle for the Christmas party. Some examples would be-

- Pasta Basket    Chocolate Basket    Baking Basket    Movie Basket    Coffee & Tea Basket    Painting Basket
- Garden Basket    Snowman Basket    etc

The committee will be collecting the baskets at our meetings until November. Remember: the raffle will only be as good as the participation that we get . Two or three people could go in together to make a basket. Thank you for your participation.
